"ARTICLE 2
BLUE RIBBON TASK FORCE ON EMINENT DOMAIN

Section 1. BLUE RIBBON TASK FORCE ON EMINENT DOMAIN ESTABLISHED.

Subdivision 1. Blue ribbon task force established; membership. A blue ribbon task force on eminent domain is established, consisting of 15 members appointed as provided in this section. All appointments must be made as soon as practicable after the effective date of this article.

Subd. 2. Governor's appointments. The governor shall appoint 11 members.

(a) Three appointees must have special knowledge or expertise on the benefits of the broad use of eminent domain power and three must have special knowledge or expertise on the benefits of the restricted use of eminent domain power.
(b) Three appointees must be neutral but knowledgeable on the issue of the use of eminent domain.

(c) One must be an attorney who represents governmental entities in eminent domain cases and one must be an attorney who represents property owners in eminent domain cases. The governor must consider the recommendations of the Minnesota State Bar Association in making these appointments.

Subd. 3. Legislative appointments. The ranking majority and minority members of the house and senate committees with jurisdiction over commerce issues shall each make one appointment to the task force.

Subd. 4. Chair. The governor shall designate one of the members appointed under subdivision 2, paragraph (b), to serve as chair of the task force. The chair shall convene the first meeting of the task force. The task force may appoint other members to serve as vice-chair and secretary.

Sec. 2. DUTIES, STUDY TOPICS.

Subdivision 1. General. The task force must study thoroughly all matters relating to the exercise of the power of eminent domain and whether its use comports with general requirements of fairness, justice, equal protection, and due process. The task force, at a minimum, must study and report on the topics listed in this section.

Subd. 2. Past uses of eminent domain. The task force must study and report on:

(a) all exercises of the power of eminent domain in Minnesota to acquire residential property for transfer to another private use, completed between January 1, 2000, and January 1, 2005. The report must distinguish between owner-occupied residential properties taken and other properties;

(b) the declared purposes for these acquisitions;

(c) the initial offer and final award in each case;

(d) the total compensation paid for each acquisition, listing separately acquisition price, relocation assistance, and any other element of compensation or reimbursement; and

(e) the current ownership and use of each property.

Subd. 3. Recommendations. The task force must study and report on how the provisions of article 1 of this act have worked, and, at a minimum, address the questions below.

(a) Is there a way to insure that eminent domain is not used in a discriminatory way to acquire property based on the race, ethnicity, age, or income of the majority of the population in the area? Is there a way to insure that the use of eminent domain does not have a disparate impact on minority populations, the elderly, and low-income persons?

(b) Should there be additional compensation paid for a property owner’s sentimental or emotional attachment to the property, based on, for example, the owner’s long residence there? If there should be additional compensation, how should it be determined and who should determine it?

(c) Should there be additional compensation paid for special features or unusual work done on the residence, whether practical or aesthetically pleasing, that would not otherwise be accounted for in market value?

(d) Are those whose homes are taken receiving the full amount they should receive under the relocation law, and is the requirement that the compensation be sufficient to allow the property owner to acquire comparable property in the same community followed?
(e) Should eminent domain matters be tried de novo in district court or should deference be given to the fact-finding of the condemning authority?

(f) What should the burden of proof be and should it be different for different elements or types of takings?

(g) Should there be a different measure for what constitutes just compensation? Who should have the burden of proving what is just compensation? Should attorneys fees be allowed, and, if so, on what terms? Should the ultimate disposition of the property taken make a difference in the compensation paid?

(h) Should the level of crime in the general area of the property proposed to be taken be a factor in determining blight? Should the level of crime related to the specific property affect compensation?

(i) If property taken is ultimately transferred to another private owner, should the owner's whose property was taken receive some portion of any amount paid to the condemning authority that is greater than the amount paid to the property owner by the condemning authority? Should compensation such as this depend on other factors, such as how long the condemning authority held the property or whether it was used for governmental purposes?

(j) Should a special court be established to handle eminent domain matters, similar to the tax court and workers compensation court?

(k) Should a partial taking of a business property ever receive compensation for loss of a going concern?

(l) What, if any, eminent domain procedures or compensation should be different based on whether the property taken is owner-occupied, rental residential, business, nonprofit or charitable, or other?

(m) Should the exercise of the power of eminent domain by local governments require a vote of the local elected officials?

(n) Should a taking by a local government to provide publicly owned housing be treated the same as a taking for a road?

(o) What are the additional costs to the taxpayers due to the changes in eminent domain law under article 1?

(p) Under what circumstances is it fair to the taxpayers and the property owner to pay compensation for loss of a going concern?

(q) Does the relocation assistance requirement to place a displaced person in housing that is at least of equal value and in the same area as the property taken working? Are there changes that would make this element of compensation fair to all? Are the costs of financing taken into account?

Sec. 3. REPORT BY JANUARY 15, 2008.

The task force must submit a report on its findings, conclusions, and recommendations on legislative and administrative actions by January 15, 2008. The report must be submitted to the governor and to the legislature, as provided in Minnesota Statutes, section 3.195, and to the chairs of the house and senate committees with jurisdiction over civil law, transportation, state government, and local government.

"Section 1. DEFINITIONS.

Subdivision 1. Applicability. The definitions in this section apply to sections 2 to 7.

Subd. 2. Commissioner. "Commissioner" means the commissioner of finance.

Subd. 3. Stadium. "Stadium" means an athletic stadium suitable for intercollegiate National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division I football games and related infrastructure improvements constructed on the University of Minnesota's east bank campus in the city of Minneapolis.

Notwithstanding contrary law, the board may adopt the fair and competitive design and construction procurement procedures in connection with the stadium that it considers to be in the public interest.

Sec. 3. CONDITIONS FOR PAYMENT TO THE UNIVERSITY.

Before the commissioner may make the first payment to the board authorized in this section the commissioner must certify that the board has received at least $149,000,000 in pledges, gifts, sponsorships and other nonstate general fund revenue support for the construction of the stadium. On July 1 of each year after certification by the commissioner, but no earlier than July 1, 2007, and for so long thereafter as any bonds issued by the board for the construction of the stadium are outstanding, the state must transfer to the board $7,400,000 to reimburse the board for its stadium costs, provided that bonds issued to pay the state's share of such costs shall not exceed $99,000,000 or 50 percent of the total cost of construction, whichever is less. $7,400,000 is appropriated annually from the general fund for the purpose of this section.
