H.F. 51 increases the disabled veteran's market value exclusion for disabled veterans with a disability rating of 70 percent or more. Currently those veterans have the first $150,000 of the market value of their homestead excluded before determining taxable value. Under the bill, the amount of the exclusion changes to $300,000 times the disability percentage. For example, for a disabled veteran with a 70 percent rating, the exclusion would be $$300,000 \times 70 \text{ percent} = $210,000$.

Currently, disabled veterans whose rating is total and permanent (100 percent T & P) are eligible for an exclusion of $300,000, and that would remain the same under the bill.
