> I'm writing on behalf of Public Record Media, a non-profit based in > Saint Paul, MN that makes requests for public records on the local, > state and federal level regarding topics of general interest. Our > work can be viewed on our website, publicrecordmedia.org.

> If the Federal Reserve would like a formal public data request > regarding this, we can certainly accommodate the request.

> Here is what we are trying to obtain –

> v A list of non-Federal Reserve individuals or entities that were > consulted during the development of the proposed amendment.

> v Copies of any background memoranda or legal analysis produced > during > this process.
