Overview

This bill directs the use of general fund appropriations that would otherwise lapse to the repair and maintenance of state-owned facilities. Under current law, an appropriation lapses if it does not carry forward at the end of a fiscal year and remains unexpended or unencumbered at the close of the fiscal year. The bill requires the commissioner of administration to use these funds in consultation with the agency that was originally appropriated the money to make the repairs to state facilities occupied by the agency.

Section 1  Carryover for repair and maintenance. Appropriates certain unexpended general fund appropriations to the commissioner of administration for the repair and maintenance of state-owned facilities occupied by state agencies. In consultation with the agency that was the recipient of the original appropriation, the commissioner may use general fund appropriations that would lapse because they do not carry forward at the end of the fiscal year or the end of the biennium. The funds are available in the biennium following the period when they would have lapsed.

The commissioner must report to the legislature on the use of these funds for maintenance and repair.
