Overview

This bill provides for reimbursement to motor vehicle owners who are found to have overpaid vehicle registration taxes and fees since the implementation of the new information technology system known as the Minnesota Licensing and Registration System (MNLARS). It requires analysis of historical transactions as well as ongoing transaction recordkeeping, directs the Department of Public Safety to perform outreach efforts (including establishing a call center), requires reimbursements to be made, and appropriates an amount to be determined from the general fund to cover reimbursement costs. (Note, this summary does not identify several deadlines for agency action that are dates in the past.)

Background. A 2018 report from the Office of the Legislative Auditor had identified inaccuracies in tax calculations and collections following rollout of MNLARS. One of the findings from that report was that “while MNLARS generally calculated certain types of transactions correctly, inaccurate vehicle registration data within MNLARS and user errors resulted in some owners of similar vehicles being charged different tax amounts.”¹
